OSTA provides services for all stakeholders in the areas of Science, Technology, and Innovation. We can plug you into a large network of the brightest Austrian minds in North America, as well as the most relevant STI stakeholders. OSTA is your gateway to this large and vibrant pool of innovation and talent.

Making connections that really matter, we achieve our goal of Bridging Research and Innovation between Austria and North America.

The OSTA does this by:

- managing one of the largest diaspora networks in North America (RINA – Research and Innovation Network Austria);
- connecting you and your agency, institute, or company directly (or indirectly, through the professional networks of our members) with an extended network of members who are among the brightest minds in North America;
- facilitating the exchange of researchers and innovators, as well as Austrian policy makers, with leaders of North American thought and innovation
- increasing the visibility of the outstanding research and innovation currently originating in Austria.
